ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

1

- The present invention provides a treatment for mammalian diseases characterized by pathological angiogenesis. The treatment consists of administering therapeutically
- 4 active dosages of peptides containing specific amino acid sequences or antibodies that
- 5 bind to cell membrane antigens on the surface of rapidly dividing endothelial cells.